

Internet Safety Message

I will never share personal information such as my address, my telephone number, my parents' or guardian's work address/ telephone number, or the name and location of my school without my parents' or guardian's permission.

Overview

Students attempt to identify appropriate information to share online by circling items on an information sheet. While watching "Tracking Teresa," students look for safe and unsafe online behaviors in the scenario. They then reevaluate their choices on the information sheet and discuss with a partner any changes they made.

Program Goal

Enhance a child's ability to recognize dangers on the Internet.

Materials

- computer lab or computer connected to an LCD projector or television monitor
- "Tracking Teresa" vignette from the NetSmartz "I-360" program
- Teresa01 online profile visual aid (can be copied onto an overhead transparency)
- "All About Me" worksheet

Activity

Hand out the "All About Me" worksheet, explaining that this is information about a teenage girl named "Teresa." Instruct the students to circle any information that Teresa should not reveal online.

On the board, overhead, or computer, create two columns titled "Safe Online Behavior" and "Unsafe Online Behavior." Tell the students that they are going to see how a girl named Teresa was tracked from the information she gave in a chatroom right to her doorstep. Show "Tracking Teresa" to the students.

Show Teresa's online profile sheet using an overhead transparency. Ask the students to point out the "personal identifiers" from the profile. Discuss how those identifiers can be used to track Teresa to her home address. Discuss what safe and unsafe behaviors Teresa exhibited online and list them on the board. Using a different color writing instrument, ask the students to recheck their original responses and add or delete any information that should not be shared online. Have them then discuss with a partner why they made those changes.

What should you do if you're asked to fill out personal information on the computer? Leave profiles blank. If the students ever feel pressured to give personal information or something requires filling in personal information, they should ask a parent, guardian, or trusted adult for help.
