Next, it will ask you to provide the following information teacher code, you can find your teachers code at the following web address

<http://jc-schools.net/jms/faculty.html>

*You must enter exactly as the example: engrade-jeffersonmiddle-studentidnumber

You will have to email each teacher and check to ensure they used the students' id number.
You can enter all teachers here at one time, but I've found it works best to add one and then add the rest after you've created the account.

Then, it will ask you to create a username and a password. I encouraged my students to use their first and last name run together as username and password jms so I can help them remember when they forget. If not, be sure you write it down somewhere. Click OK

Next, it will ask you verify a word and you simply type what ever word it shows you and enter your password and click verify account.

It will then bring up an engrade form that has your classes' id number grade and your teachers names listed at the bottom.

When you want to add more teachers on the chart of the right hand side click add access code. You will need to leave the existing code and simply type in the next code for the next teacher, and then click save codes. It will take you to the next page with all teachers added.
