

Colonial America

To begin with, life was different in colonial America.

First, today we have food that we buy in store's, but in colonial America they had to hunt, fish, or grow there food. It tast very plan since they had no spices. They had no restrants or fast food. So they could not go to McDonalds and order a dobbel cheese burger. Food would be difficult to get at times. Because what ever there husband kills mite not be the thing she is cooking.

Next, in colonial America clothes covered your whole body. Mostly women had to do that. Everyone had to wear a hat it was required. They had to wear one every day. Woman had to wear dresses every day. No women ever wore pants.

Third, only rich people went to school. You had to pay a lot of money every week. They had to pay there teacher for books. Because there were no takes back then. Poor kids went to a home and mom's taght. Only boys went to school because by had to work and moms staed home and did hover work.

As you can see, I would find it interesting to live in colonial America because you are supposed to have more manners. Ashley

Life was so different in Colonial America.

To began with, today we have food in stores, but in Colonial America they had to hunt, fish, or grow there food. Sometimes they went and bartered. Could you imagine that? Back then you had to eat what you killed. I would hate to eat squirrel. Everyday you hunted for food. Could you hunt every day? That would be tough.

Second, in Colonial America clothes covered from their neck to ankle. Girls didn't show their haize. No girl today could survive. Boys wore hose and knickers. Today we would think its scary. Every day you would wear hats. Could you imagine on summer days how hot it would be?

In addition, only rich kids got to go to school. Then I would not be that educated. Instead of paper they wrote on slate. Pretty much that would be tough. Only boys went to school. Girls were allowed to learn to read. They never had text books. They had the Bible. They paid for everything including the teacher every week.

In short, I would only like to visit for a week. Katie

Colonial Days Celebration

Sentence Stretchers

John's small brown dog ran home to play.
Yesterday our teacher happily talked to Bob.
A week ago his dad drove crazy to Wal-Mart.
The scary alien softly landed on the school.
The Anderson's boy played tag fastly in the park to do something. Bryan

The cat hissed outside this morning because it was mad.
Mom's big black do ran to the road to catch the mailman.
A small nice baby cried loudly because it was hungry.
This morning some angry men worked on a house.
The old lady quickly cleaned the clothes.
This morning our teacher loudly talked to the class. Scott

The strong wind blew in Texas yesterday.

I heard a strange sound today at school.
The black cat hissed at me because I stepped on its tail.
The nice girl played at recess because she liked too.
The white cow grazed a lot in the field because he was hungry. Jamie

The big basketball bounced in the gym very hard yesterday.
The black bird flew yesterday because a cat chased him at the zoo.
At school today the computer works.
The weird Alien landed over there roughly.
The fat boy grinned really big. Matt

My little brown dog ran home because he was scared.
Last night my bad baby cried because he was hungry and my brother checked on him.
Today some small men worked on a car.
That cool lady cleaned good on the furniture.
Today our teacher talked loud to us. Nathan

